SOUTHINGTON.

Jan. 29 .- Helen, aged fourteen, youngest daughter of J. W. Grilley, treas-Mrer of the Southington Cutlery company, died at the home of her parents at 11:30 o'clock this morning of consumption. Deceased had been away for her health the greater portion of the past two years, and had returned about three weeks ago. Yesterday was her fourteenth birthday and a number of her young friends called on her. Although quite well during the day she grew rapidly worse through the night until February 2, ard died this morning. Deceased was a very lovable young girl. We want a library of books here, but are not expecting much now about one until a year from now, when the January town meeting takes up its postponed business. In the meantime it should be noted down that a library of 1,000 books can be put in circulation for $2,500. A well bound book can be bought for $2.50 and this would make 1,000 cost the above sum. There are 2,500 people in this town who can pay in $1 apiece to raise $2,500 and get 1,000 books. The "Journal and Courier" man the cases against both were nolled. is willing and eager to be one of an Keyes thereupon brought a civil suit active committee to receive money. This town has a good staff of reporters and they ought to form a club where they can meet each other and also friends. He is something like the "Journal and Courier" man, Thomas Duncan, a man who likes the people so well that he wants them to be satisfied with what he writes after he goes to all the bother he does to get the reading for them. The "Journal and Courier" man will be spoken of again, this being penned by him. The New Haven Leader is repre-sented by Jerry Kennyon and when you meet him and talk with him you will find that he is a good business man and that he likes news and newspapers and is a man that should meet with hearty public favor so that he can make that Southington column sought for each day. Charles R. Wells and M. Samuel Panikoff were yesterday appointed appraisers on the insolvent estate of Samuel Goodman, the Chapel street jeweler, by Judge Cleaveland.

In the common pleas court, civil side, before Judge Studley, the trial of the suit of Frank Morse of this city is suing to recover that amount for salary as commercial traveler for the ompany. The latter claim an offset of $78.55 for overpald expenses.

United State : Court-Judge Townsend. The case of the Fenwick Hall com pany against the town of Old Saybrook came up before Judge W. K Townsend in the United States circuit court yesterday on a hearing on the restraining order issued by this court about January 1 last to prevent defendants from selling property of the plaintiffs' located in Saybrook,

The parties have been in litigation in the state courts about two years to settle a question of benefits and damages. The Fenwick Hall company is a West Virginia corporation owning Fenwick Hall hotel, which is located in the town of Old Saybrook. In 1891 certain roads were built along the shore and in front of the hotel property.

The owners of the hotel were as-sessed about $5,000, which they claimed was greatly in excess of the benefits. The matter was taken to the superior court and here the town of Old Say

Yesterday morning Attorney L. E. Stanton of Hartford, representing the town of Old Saybrook, filed a motion asking that the restraining order be dissolved and a plea to the jurisdiction n the grounds that property of the defendant corporation is in the state and the secretary is a resident of the state and that plaintiff in the original case are of this state also, the superior court therefore has jurisdiction.

Attorneys Seymour and Knapp are counsel for the Fenwick Hall company After hearing the arguments Judg Townsend reserved his decision.

FITZGERALD BOUND OVER. Thomas Fitzgerald, who was arrested charged with passing a worthless check valued at $75, upon Silverthau & Sons the jewelers on Chapel street, with which he purchased a ring, a brooch and a pair of earrings, valued at $50 was in the city court yesterday morn ing. He pleaded guilty to the charg and was bound over to the superior court under $500 bonds. Fitzgerald, was stated, bought the goods for young lady in Orange. He claims h was drunk when he committed the offense. The check was drawn on the First National bank.

KILLED NINE OF THE COWS. Visit of State Cattle Commissioners to Meriden.

Meriden, Jan. 29.-The state cattle commissioners visited Meriden this norning and witnessed the autopsies of line of ex-Mayor Charles Parker's graded Jersey herd, the autopsies being per formed by Dr. Julian E. Gardner of Hartford, assisted by Dr. E. M. Beckley of this city.

As stated yesterday, Mr. Parker's herd is afflicted with tuberculosis, and today's work was a preliminary step toward the extermination of it. Two of the older cows had previously been killed, as they showed signs of the dis-

Anna Katherine Green's New Book. "The Doctor, His Wife and the Clock" s a new book by Anna Katherine Green (Mrs. Charles Rohlfs) which has just been Issued from G. P. Putnam's Sons publishing house in New York. It is one of her short stories and is exceed ingly interesting. The main interest ticing Lizzle Freligh to this city for in the book centers around the character of Dr. Zabriskie, a blind doctor who had a beautiful wife, of whom he became lealous through the slanderous insinuations of a pretended friend. One night he hears that his wife's lover is with her and he rushes home to avenge imself for her supposed infidelity. But instead of entering his own house he gets into the house of his next doo neighbor, who lived in a house in the same block exactly like his own. His neighbor arises from his bed to meet the intruder and the doctor fires and kills him, and it is not until the dying man utters a cry of agony that he recognizes that It is his neighbor that he has killed. The working out of the plot is exceedingly elever, and the story a a whole can scarcely fall to prove most entertaining evening's reading. It is for sale by T. H. RECLAIMED FROM DEATH.

The Terror of Man Thwarted.

In the Grasp of that Dread Disease, Con-sumption.—Life Given Back.—Almost Miraculous.

Fortunately, perhaps, the Consumptive foes not realize his own condition. His is a disease of continual waste until he meets a death that is in reality one of starvation.

It is now generally conceded that this disease is incurable, — that is, by any known medicine. Change of climate, or some life-infusing food that will give new flesh, blood, and strength, and induce the various organs of the body to assume their normal functions, — this is the only hope.

The only way to do this effectually is to give the patient Bovinine, that great raw food product, the greatest concentration of the life-giving elements of raw beef known to modern science. In this con-nection the results obtained by Dr. J. H. Head of Atlanta, Ga., in the treatment of a case of consumption, are interesting.

Dr. Head relates briefly how a man about thirty-five years of age came to him for treatment. He had lost forty pounds in weight in six months; he suffered with a bad cough and experienced severe night sweats; he was unable to do any work; most of his family had died of consump tion, and on examination his right lung was found to be seriously affected, and as the doctor remarked, "He was in a good way to have an early funeral.

But note what happened. He was given Bovinine. In two weeks he had gained seven pounds, his appetite had returned, he was able to do a good day's work, and most of the distressing symptoms had vanished; and at the time of writing the doctor felt sure of a complete cure. This is but one of many similar cases, Bovinine will give new life and strength, make new blood and flesh, stop waste, ward off disease, and turn the current of life's river again into its natural channel, Give it one trial while there is yet hope.
